Steven R. Chabinsky

Deputy Assistant Director, Cyber Division
Federal Bureau of Investigation

Biography:

Mr. Chabinsky serves as Deputy Assistant Director within the FBI's Cyber Division. The Cyber Division manages all FBI domestic and international investigative and outreach efforts focused on protecting the United States from cyber attack, cyber espionage, online child exploitation, Internet fraud, intellectual property rights theft, and other high technology crimes. In 2009, Mr. Chabinsky completed a joint duty assignment with the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI) where he served as the Chair of the National Cyber Study Group, the Director of the Joint Interagency Cyber Task Force, and the Acting Assistant Deputy Director of National Intelligence for Cyber. Prior to that, Mr. Chabinsky served as Chief of the FBI's Cyber Intelligence Section, where he organized and led the FBI's analysis and reporting on terrorism, foreign intelligence, and criminal matters having a cyber threat nexus.

Abstract:

"Cyber Security: What You Don't Know Can Hurt You."

Today's cyber environment provides terrorists, spies, and criminals with countless opportunities to cause us great harm. This briefing will provide a description of the threat and offer a framework for making better informed risk management decisions.
