

We're looking for powerful, innovative, and disruptive thinkers for the nation's largest computer science competition for middle school girls

ProjectCSGIRLS

Announcing the 2015 ProjectCSGIRLS Competition for Middle School Girls!

Registration closes February 15th, 2015. Register by January 1st, 2015 to request a mentor. The deadline to submit projects is March 15th, 2015.

Are you interested in using computer science and technology to tackle critical social issues facing the world today? Register now for the 2015 ProjectCSGIRLS Competition for Middle School Girls!

The competition is open to all middle school girls in 6th, 7th, or 8th grade during the 2014-2015 school year residing in the continental United States. Both individuals and teams of up to 3 girls may compete. See our website for more details:

www.projectcsgirls.com

Eligibility...

Open to all middle school (6th -8th grade) girls in the continental United States. Homeschooled girls are welcome to participate!

The Challenge...

Build something using computer science and technology to help solve a social problem under one of 3 themes: global health, a safer world, and intelligent technology.

Awards...

Finalists, state, regional, and national winners will receive an awards package. Regional and national winners will receive a paid trip to our national gala in DC, awesome awards, and swag.

The National Gala...

The ultimate celebration of girls in computing. Invitees will tour tech companies, participate in workshops, and listen to guest speakers.

ProjectCSGIRLS is a national nonprofit organization working to close the gender gap in computer science and technology. We run a national computer science competition for middle school girls and workshops around the country.